

Donate

Currently our only form of donation is via paypal. If you would like to donate to further our ideas and speed up development you can click the link below. If you don't have any money that you'd like to give to us, you can always look at the ads on our site to see if anything interests you. Another idea, if you'd like to donate but want something out of it, purchase Check n Do and in the notes section during check out (or in one of the emails we exchange) you can specify that the reason you purchased was to help with development for a specific program.

NOTE: If you have any ideas on other forms of donating please email them to us. We would gladly add your favorite method for your support and others that prefer your method.
